LOCAL NEWS.

Members of Brown Cadets should not forget the squad drill to-night. Let there be a full attendance.

Mrs. E. D. Waddell returned Sunday, from a most pleasant visit to friends and relatives in Aberdeen.

Mr. and Mrs. Nud, accompanied by their charming daughter, are in the city the guest of Dr. B. A. Vaughn.

Mr. J. A. Porter, the general representative of I. L. Lyons & Co., druggists, New Orleans, was in the city Monday.

A man named Leopold from Kansas City suicided by morphine last Monday at the Laurens House, Jackson, Miss.

Miss Mamie Humphries has returned from Jackson, after a several weeks visit to friends; reporting a most pleasant visit.

Go see the big show, Friday Nov. 27. Watch for the grand street parade which takes place before the afternoon performance.

We are in receipt of complimentary tickets to the State Fair at Jackson, and only regret that business is too pressing for us to attend. The good people down there never do things by halves.

Capt. E. T. Sykes and his little daughter, Augusta, accompanied by Mrs. I. H. Sykes left for Meridian, Sunday evening where they will witness Salvini, in "The Three Guardsmen."

We wish them a pleasant trip and a safe return.

Mr. P. W. Maer, of the Dispatch, and Mr. Will Mahon, of the M. & O. Railroad, attended the "Three Guardsmen" at Meridian Monday night; we are confident Salvini came fully up to their expectations. They will return this morning.

The "Young Ladies' Club" will have an important meeting at the residence of Dr. R. L. Sykes, Monday evening at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly desired as business of importance will come up for consideration.

Mr. W. P. Blair, our popular and enterprising young druggist, acting upon the suggestion of last Sunday's Dispatch, will hereafter keep a full supply of postal supplies on sale for the accommodation of his friends and the public generally. This will be a great convenience, and Mr. Blair deserves lots of credit for having adopted the scheme.

A Young lady in Memphis wrote an essay on "The Model Husband" for which she received a prize of $20. But this is not all, a Minneapolis banker read the article and sought her acquaintance and she got a rich and handsome young man for a husband. This will be encouraging to young ladies, and we may expect more essays on the same subject.

Mayer's Court.

Mayor Moore was quite busy for several hours yesterday adjusting the petty differences that are a natural consequence from a Saturday's frolic. One case up was a couple of tailors that became very much how "cum you so," and quarrelled; they scraped and during the maeloe one of them got struck in the head with a pair of scissors; the wound was painful but not serious. There was another fuss which was between white parties but the affair was compromised.

The day was given up to white offenders, no "coons" being in it.

BOARDERS WANTED.

Robbed by a Highwayman.

Greenwood, Nov. 13.—A young man named Taylor, collector for the Davis Clock Works of Columbus, Miss., was held up and robbed on a public road about two miles and a half from this city yesterday about 4 o'clock. The robber secured $22.50 and a silver watch valued at about $18. Mr. Taylor says he was driving along slowly when he was struck across the head with a gun by some person who had evidently been waiting for him and had slipped up behind him. He was told to look straight ahead or suffer the consequences. Taylor's wounds are painful, but not serious.

The above named young gentleman arrived in this city, at home Sunday afternoon, and fully corroborates the telegram. He says this is the third attempt to rob him in that section; further stating that it was a white man, and he used a Winchester rifle.

Don't forget that Reutz' Big Railroad Show will exhibit in Columbus, Friday Nov. 27.

Malaria produces weakness, general debility, biliousness, loss of appetite, indigestion and constipation. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic removes the cause which produces these troubles. Try it and you will be delighted. 50 cents. To get the genuine ask for Grove's. For sale by Chapman & Lanier, druggists, Gilmer Hotel corner, Columbus, Miss.

We publish this morning an attractive advertisement for the Roseborough Monument Co., of St. Louis. This well known firm, represented in this section by Mr. F. D. Randle, have placed cemetery work in almost every cemetery throughout the State, and their mechanical skill as shown by it is sufficient guarantee that all future orders come up to sample.

Messrs. Harrington and Guyton have just received from Missouri, two car loads of the finest saddle and harness mares and horses, which they will dispose of at their stable on Market street. These gentlemen are thoroughly reliable and are experienced horsemen. They have a number of valuable animals that they are offering at bargains.—12 2c.

DRESS MAKING—Miss Anna Cook is prepared to do all kinds of plain and fancy dress-making at most reasonable rates. Call on her at the residence of Mrs. Geraud. 8 1c.

A Jackson Miss Special to the Natchez Democrat gives the following summing up of the Senatorial vote:

Returns from all the counties and Senatorial districts in the State are in but two, and while it is possible that Gordon defeats Winter for State Senator, it is more probable that the Barkdale candidates, Winter and Wharton, are elected.

A careful estimate of the vote shows that of the 178 votes in both Houses Senator George has certainly 111 votes Barkdale is certain of 54; not definitely known six; members pledged not to vote on account of conflicting instructions where they represent two countries, three; Republicans three; Greenbackers one; necessary to elect on full vote of both Houses 90; necessary to nominate in Democratic census 86.

Senator Walthall's vote is somewhat larger than that instructed for Senator George.

We solicit your order for COAL, and guarantee the O'Brien to be equal to any on the market.

Mrs. Ida Sykes Billups, daughter of James W. and Marcella Sykes, was born in Columbus, Miss., on Feb. 10, 1853, and died in her home, at the same place, on July 23, 1891, at about six p. m. On the 28th of January, 1873, deceased was married to T. C. Billups, who with four motherless little children are left to mourn their loss. The deceased, at twelve years of age, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, knocked at the door of the M. E. Church, South, inquiring and praying: "Sirs, I would see Jesus." She was received into its communion, where, in 1876, she was graciously converted, under the ministry of Rev. W. W. Wadsworth. Her bright and happy conversion at this time was the cause of her husband joining the same church, of which he is to-day an earnest and consistent official member. Home was the principal sphere of her christian activity. Here the light of her faith and consecration shone more resplendently than elsewhere, filling it with all the summer luster of heaven, of which she endeavored to make her home a branch, spending much of her time in teaching her children, both by precept and example, those principles that dignify and ennoble humanity. But, while home were the scene of her prayers and labors, it was by no means the coffin of her holy industry. In every ward in Columbus there are yet aged and decrepit men or women whose eyes will swim in unshed tears, and whose voices will sink to a softer tone, as they tell you how often they were beneficiaries of her thoughtful regard. There are others who, as a citizen of Columbus remarked, "were never really poor until Mrs. Carleton Billups died." In the flesh her life was a fascination to Columbus, and in the spirit it cast a charm over heaven. While here day by day she approximated more clearly the life of unselfish purity and character of stainless excellence, lived and sustained by the Divine-human; and so incarnated that beatitude, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God," that in the last hour of her life when she caught the first glimpse of the golden gates and the soul's pathway of timeless radiance, there was no look of wonderment in her eyes; but her face beamed with the light of blent innocence and immortality for one moment, and then, wrestling itself in a smile of peace, sunk deeper in the soft, yielding pillow; and out of the hush and stillness of the death chamber seemed to speak a tender voice, saying: "Be still and know that I am God," which was answered by the half-suppressed sobs of a weeping circle of affection and sorrow, as the blood-bought and blood-washed soul of Mrs. Carleton Billups ascended to its God.—National Christian Advocate, November 14, '91.

You run no risk. All druggists guarantee Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic to do all that the manufacturers claim for it.

A Novel Scheme for Purchasers.

W. P. Craddock will give every customer who buys $15 worth of shoes in his house, a set of (six) Wm. Rogers' genuine triple-plated TABLE KNIVES, the best goods made in the world, and will last a life time. This handsome present will really cost you nothing, for the Shoes you buy of Craddock, are sold at the very closest possible margins and are always just as represented. It is managed in this way: "When you buy a pair of shoes, a card is given you bearing figures of various denominations, and the amount of your purchase is punched on the ticket, and when it reaches the sum of $15.00, why you get six elegant Rogers' knives free of cost." They are enabled to do this because the inducement is so great the increase in their sales make up the loss to them. Call and investigate the matter; if you have no family you can make a nice Christmas present to your friend. Craddock carries a line of shoes equal to any stock to be found in the State, and his prices are cut down to suit the times.

Nearly all the diseases in the Southern States are produced from malaria. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic removes all malarial poisons from the system. It is as pleasant to the taste as Lemon Syrup. 50c. To get the genuine ask for Grove's. For sale by Chapman & Lanier, druggists, Gilmer Hotel corner, Columbus.

THERMAL TREATMENT

I have an apparatus, on improved principles, for the administration of baths in hot air, steam, or the vapors of sulphur, mercury, iodine, etc. Massage and electricity will be applied according to the most approved methods, when necessary. Baths for ladies will be supervised by my wife—for gentlemen, by myself, at my residence. Time arranged by engagement.

Persons wishing to take these Baths, had better do so at once, as it is my purpose to leave Columbus on the 1st of January.
